

Exercise

You're building a framework for scheduling tasks. Look at the classes in the factory package of the Exercises project. The Scheduler class is tightly coupled to the Calendar class which represents the Gregorian calendar. With this design, this framework cannot be effectively used in Arabian countries. Use the factory method to add flexibility to this design.